Caledonia School 2-Mill Tax Levy Carries 424 to 16

Caledonia school district voters approved a five-mill levy for two years to be used for additional operating funds for Caledonia school in a special election held yesterday Returns showed 424 votes in favor of the levy and 16 in opposition, according to the county board of elections

The levy will raise approximately $11,000 yearly, according to Harry Mounts, county auditor It will be included in next year's tax rate

Passages of the levy assures opening of the Caledonia school next fall Before the election O G McGlone school superintendent had warned of the possibility that the school might not be able to open without additional funds No action was taken last fall to renew a three-mill school levy which would have run for three years.

Until first collections on the new levy the school will operate on a deficit however funds borrowed until collections are made in 1948 will forestall closing the school It has been estimated the school will have a deficit of between $5,000 and $6 000 at the end of the present term

Truman Signs Bill Halting Portal Pay

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 14—President Truman signed into law today legislation banning portal pay suits and sent congress a fresh request that it raise the minimum wage to 65 cents an hour.

In a message to the legislators the President

1 Emphasized that he was signing the portal bill because he believed it in the interest of economic stability that both business and the government be relieved of the potential liability for billions of dollars But he said there were defects in the measure and asked that congress remedy them.

2 Asked that congress raise the statutory minimum wage from 40 to 65 cents an hour

3 In effect prodded business to reach wage agreements with workers and reduce prices

Mr Truman said that with uncertainty over the portal claims removed direct wage negotiations can proceed more readily to a satisfactory conclusion and business men will be able to plan with assurance for full production and price reductions

"Of Real Value

"This" he added "will be of real value to labor and management in the maintenance of a continued high level of employment"

More than $6 000 000 000 in suits were filed by unions for portal pay claims but many of them have been withdrawn since the key case brought by pottery workers at Mt Clemens, Mich was dismissed in federal circuit court at the request of the unions

The suits sought pay for time workers spent preparing for work Some made claims for such things as changing clothes Others were for sharpening tools and similar activities

Mr Truman emphasized that he signed the measure whose purpose is to relieve employers and the government from potential liability for billions of dollars in so-called portal-to portal claims

Wage Hour Law Concern

At the same time the President said Some doubts have been expressed to me however concerning the effects of this legislation upon our wage and hour standards He continued

Prior to its adjournment last year the congress had reached a large measure of agreement as to legislation to increase minimum wage standards I trust that with the passage of the portal-to-portal act relieving the business community of a heavy burden of doubt the congress will now turn to a re examination of minimum wage standards

Mr Truman called for immediate legislation setting up a minimum of at least 65 cents an hour as compared to the present 40 cents and asked extension of minimum wage benefits to groups not now covered

Claims for back portal-to-portal pay, the President said, emerged after a judicial decision on the wage and hour law had raised the possibility that employers might be required to pay back wages for certain activities which in most industries had not previously been considered by either workers or employers to be compensable

Stability at Stake

"In the interest of the economic stability of our nation Mr Truman said it is essential to clarify this matter by statute"

With uncertainty over these claims ended, the president said

Current wage negotiations can proceed more readily to a satisfactory conclusion and businessmen will be able to plan with assurance for full production and price reductions

"This will be of real value to labor and management in the maintenance of a continued high level of employment"

Mr Truman said he understood that section two of the act relating to existing claims was not intended to invalidate all other existing claims" He added in explanation

The plain language of section two of the act relating to existing claims was not intended to invalidate all other existing claims He added in explanation

The plain language of section two of the act preserves minimum wage and overtime compensation claims based upon activities which were compensable in any

Portal Bill Contains Six Main Provisions

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON May 14—Here are the main provisions of the portal bill

1 Virtually all pending and future claims are outlawed unless covered by a wage contract or industry custom

2 A two-year time limit after the work is done is fixed for filing all qualified suits

3 Employers can offer a "good faith" defense against claims for triple damages if they can show they relied on rulings or orders of government agencies which administer the wage-hour laws

4 Pending claims can be compromised

5 Pay demands are left to collective bargaining or court settlement if based on portal activities during the regular workday—rest and instruction periods, for example

6 On future claims the courts are given discretion as to whether triple damages should be awarded The courts have no alternative but to award such damages at present.

Race Chief Bows To Resignation Request

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND May 14—John E Lokar today complied with a request by Gov Thomas J Herbert and resigned as chairman of the state racing commission

Herbert last Friday demanded the former secretary to ex-governor Frank J. Lausche resign because of what he described as "the disclosures in connection with the department of liquor control."

In a letter to Herbert, Lokar said that for some time he had "been torn with the thought of resigning" and the governor's request "only hurried my decision"

Lokar was appointed to the post by Lausche after serving as his secretary during Lausche's two terms in office. He took over as commissioner last Jan. 11.

INFLUENCE OF LABOR AT LOW

Union Weight with Congress Touches 10-Year Bottom Point.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON May 14 Organized labor's influence with congress stands at its lowest point in more than a decade today,

There are strong indications that stern curbs on union activity may be written into law even over a possible presidential veto

The 68 to 24 vote by which the senate yesterday approved its bill providing for extensive regulation of organized labor's activities almost exactly matched the percentage by which the house on April 17 voted a much more stringent measure

In the house opponents cast 25.8 per cent of the 308 to 107 vote In the senate, they registered 26 per cent

Marks Sharp Decline

This core of support representing only about one fourth of the membership of the two houses marks a sharp decline from the days when unions could stop in one house or the other almost any legislation they regarded as punitive

Failing in that, they could muster the needed support to sustain a veto This was demonstrated when the house failed 11 months ago to override President Truman's veto of the Case labor disputes bill On that 255 to 135 tally union supporters mustered several more than the one-third-plus-one of the votes they needed

The prospect that this year's expanded version of the Case bill finally will find its way into the law books was enhanced—but by no means assured—in the senate's vote yesterday

Compromise Version Needed

In the first place, a senate-house conference committee must work out a compromise version If it follows the tough form that many house members would like, leaders unquestionably will be able to force its acceptance by both houses But the chances that it would be vetoed by President Truman would be increased

A milder edition more in line with that approved by the senate, apparently would encounter less risk of a veto

Mr Truman has kept his own counsel about what he intends to do

But if he vetoes the measure he finally receives, Capitol Hill undoubtedly will witness the most intensive campaign in years by organized labor and administration leaders to get the veto sustained It requires two-thirds approval of those voting in each house to override.

CITY AID PLAN IN OHIO SENATE

House Rams Financial Program for Municipalities Through Passage.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O May 14 – A favorable senate today took over key measures in the administration's $12 000 000 - a - year financial aid program for local governments.

House Republicans rammed through three major portions of the program yesterday

The measures would provide $25 000 000 annually and authorize cities to take over the state's amusement admissions which yielded nearly $1 000 000 on a 3 per cent rate last year No limit was set on the rate cities could levy after Oct 1

Recommended Passage

A bill to give counties the state's $500 000-a year share of cigaret dealers license fees previously passed by the house and has been recommended for senate passage

Another proposal advocated by Gov Thomas J Herbert for $1-250 000 in state subsidies for county care of tuberculosis patients is being studied by a house finance sub-committee

During debate on the three aid bills urban representatives who stand to benefit most under the local government program hinted they might upset the pending school subsidy plan unless rural cities went along with them Rural areas would be helped in it by the school aid program

The local government program would provide $25 000 000 this year from sales taxes and $12 000 000 next year, plus $11-000 000 distributed from the state's tax on deposits and shares of financial institutions to counties of origin Last year local governments got $21,000 000

Vote 113 to 14

The vote on sales tax distributions was 113 to 14 and on the intangibles tax collection 111 to 16 The admissions tax measure passed 82 to 43 despite opposition of 30 Republicans and 13 Democrats

Sales tax allocations would be 75 per cent on the basis of the municipal tax duplicate within counties and 25 per cent according to population. Counties would distribute these funds and in-

TWISTER RIPS TRAILER CAMP INTO WRECKAGE

No Deaths Reported as 42 Wheeled Homes Smashed, 3 Damaged.

By The Associated Press

FINDLAY, O, May 14—A tornado that ripped through the eastern edge of this city and wrecked a trailer camp left at least 26 persons injured today

Police and volunteer workers were searching the debris this morning to ascertain if there were any more casualties

No one was killed when the twister struck this northern Ohio city at 4 p m yesterday and within two minutes smashed 42 trailers and damaged three others Twenty-one persons in the trailer camp were hurt Some were buried beneath their wheeled residences but swift rescue action extricated them

Inside the city three employes were injured in the collapse of a municipal barn and two women were hurt, one by window glass and the other by a falling tree.

Preceded by Hailstorm

Preceded by a hailstorm the tornado dipped into the trailer camp from the southwest Two minutes later the funnel shaped wind mass had spent northeastward

A camp resident Mrs C L Wakefield saw the roof of her trailer porch sucked up by the tornado Then the twister overturned the nearby dwelling of her daughter Mrs Kyle Linger

"Before I knew it she and my granddaughter, Carol Sue 5 were pinned underneath," Mrs Wakefield related, adding she "rushed over and broke through the side of the trailer to pull them out" They were bruised slightly

The storm disabled power poles, shutting off electricity to half this city of 22 000 Trees were toppled and roofs blown from numerous buildings

Injured by Twister

Those injured at the trailer camp were (all residents of Findlay) unless otherwise noted)

Mrs Raymond Shack, 29 and 8 months old daughter Sarah Ann

Kevin Griffith, 7, and brother Michael

Mrs Orville Minard 48 (treated at hospital for lacerations and injured right shoulder)

Mrs Noble Wilkerson and two children, Danny and Penny.

Mrs Thomas Hall

Mr and Mrs Darold Kerr and daughter Ruth Ann, 3 (The daughter was treated at the hospital for first degree burns about the face, arms and chest)

Mrs Evelyn Sparks

Carl Minard

Richard Clinger

Mrs Annette Pitzen

Mrs Cora Smith, 48

Mrs Noble Jones of Fostoria, O was a visitor at the camp (treated at hospital for chest injuries)

Damage at the Findlay trailer camp was estimated unofficially at approximately $150 000

Trailers Tossed About

Many of the trailers were tossed over the tops of other trailers and then smashed into trees and parked automobiles

Debris at the trailer camp was spread over an area of more than one-half mile square

The tornado entered the city from the southwest and followed a northeasterly course through Findlay. In about 15 minutes, it had cut a narrow path across the city following the center of several streets, strangely avoiding houses except for a number of roof tops

Police officials were hesitant to estimate the damage done in the city but damage estimates ran as high as one million dollars, taking into consideration the huge expense of replacing old and valuable elm trees which lined the streets.

Store Windows Crashed

The tornado struck along the north edge of the downtown section Windows in downtown stores were crashed and glass was strewn about the streets.

One two-story frame house was bowed in the center. Mail boxes, light poles and steel fire escapes were twisted like paper.

Signs and other articles from store windows were thrown hundreds of yards.

One witness to the disaster at the trailer camp was "Robert Minard, [illegible], whose mother, Hazel, and sister, Mrs. [illegible] Jones, were still in Findlay hospital Wednesday.

Minard described the tragedy this way:

"I was in the concrete block office building [illegible] the terrible wind hit. I [illegible] and it was only a [illegible] till it was [illegible]

Bids of two firms for [illegible] construction projects [illegible] Patten and Patterson streets have been rejected by the board of [illegible] because they exceeded the city engineer's estimate, according to E O Uncapher city safety-service director.

A low bid by the C[illegible] Construction Co of Youngstown for a storm and sanitary sewer on Patten street from Greenwood 650 to an alley west of Patterson street was $5 897 40 approximately 23 per cent above an estimate of $4 782 80 submitted by T S Cathers, city engineer

The G K Kohbarger Co of Marion bid $11 538 50 for construction of a sewer on Patterson street from Mark to Patten and connecting with the Greenwood street sewer This was 45 per cent of a city estimate of $7 961 50, Mr Uncapher said

Increased labor costs were blamed for the great difference between the city engineer's estimate and bids submitted by contractors

No bids were received for construction of curb and gutter on Clover avenue from Church street to Indiana avenue or for installing a sidewalk on Merchant avenue from Church street to Indiana avenue

ed Blood Cells ust Be Kept Up You Want To eel Alive

Thousands Now Regaining Old Time Pep, Vigor and Drive By Releasing Vibrant Energy To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Overwork, undue worry, and lack of certain foods often reduces the red-blood strength—and starved, weak, puny blood just hasn't the power to keep up your energy and drive.

Every day—every hour—millions of new red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Plan Playground For Northeast Area

A community playground area for children in the northeast section of Marion will be opened on a city-owned lot at the corner of Patten and Patterson streets this summer. The proposal for use of the lot was made to city council by Harold Robinson, First ward councilman, and other councilmen have expressed their approval of the proposition.

Mr. Robinson said present plans call for donation of playground equipment by merchants in the northeast section to make the playground a practical community recreation area.

Covered Dish Dinner Held by Church Class

A covered dish dinner preceded a business and social meeting of the Elizabeth Dairy class of the First Presbyterian Sunday school Monday night at the home of Mrs. Gail VanGordon of the Edison pike. Miss Jeannette Powers was an associate hostess. Plans were discussed for activities when the class resumes meetings in September. Miss Agnes Lutz was honored with a handkerchief shower in observance of her birthday anniversary and in contests the awards were won by Mrs. Van Gordon and Mrs L. E. Cookston. A letter was read from Rev. Jaakko A. Havis of Ylani, Finland, one of three ministers adopted by the class, expressing appreciation for a box of clothing and food received. A picnic at the home of Mrs L. E. Oberlander of Harding Highway E. in June will be a summer social meeting.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

DDT Treatment

Of late years there has been what might be called an epidemic of head lice among school children in many of our large cities. When such a pest gets started it is always difficult to control, and thus it is interesting to read the experience of doctors elsewhere in dealing with the same condition.

An article by Dr. Arthur D. Frazer, condensed from the British Medical Journal by the Current Medical Digest, tells how 400 British patients were rid of head lice by D.D.T., the powerful insecticide developed by the U. S. Army during the war.

While there are many preparations which can be used against the lice themselves, there are, unfortunately, few which will destroy the nits or eggs. D.D.T. has the advantage of killing both if left on the hair long enough.

Dr. Frazer has found a mixture of D.D.T., naphtha, an emulsifying agent, and water, to be an ideal treatment for head lice. The D.D.T. is not dissolved but rather held in suspension in the liquid by the emulsifier.

Long-continued contact with strong solutions of D.D.T. may be dangerous but, with proper caution, either powder or weak solutions may be used on the skin with perfect safety.

Before treatment is started, women patients are advised to have a scarf in which to tie up the hair. While the emulsion employed is a clear, colorless fluid, it makes the hair straight or lank. The scarf is worn merely to save the patient embarrassment.

In applying the treatment, a protective apron is spread over the shoulders and the emulsion is then thoroughly worked into the hair and scalp with a soft brush. The next day the patient washes the hair with soap and water and returns for examination.

At this second visit, the hair is thoroughly combed with a fine comb. Two such combings may be needed if the head is heavily infested with the lice, but in practically all cases one treatment was sufficient to get rid of the infestation permanently. Contact with the emulsion usually kills the lice in about one-half hour. Thus, the hair may be washed one hour after treatment and thoroughly combed with a fine comb, which in most cases will be sufficient to eliminate the lice.

No reactions were seen except in one case where there was an extensive infection of th scalp. In this instance some swelling of the nose, forehead and eyelids occurred. However, this reaction disappeared within a few days.

This treatment, so rapid and easy, is also practically free from all danger. It should be a boon to all who suffer from head lice infestation and to doctors and nurses who must deal with them.

New Car and Truck Sales Near Normal

New automobile and truck sales in Marion county climbed back to near their average level during the last week after their sudden drop of two weeks ago, according to a report today from Calvin Oborn, Marion county clerk of courts.

New car sales during the last week totaled 21 and new truck sales three, compared to 12 new cars and no new trucks sold during previous week. Three weeks ago 30 new cars and five new trucks were sold.

Scientists Plan Measurement Of Earth Using Moon's Shadow

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, May 14—Plans to use the South American eclipse of the sun, May 20, to measure distances half-way around the world to an accuracy of about 60 feet, have been announced.

Sixty feet is closer measurement than anything heretofore considered accurate. The plan was described in a report from Cordoba Astronomical Observatory, Argentina, and made public by R. L. [illegible], [illegible] of the Roosevelt High [illegible] Washington, D. C.

The speed of the moon's shadow, more than 1,000 miles an hour across the face of the earth, is known quite accurately. The Argentine plan is to record the time the edge of the shadow reaches a chosen point on the pampas. Later the time when the shadow edge reaches some point in Africa will be recorded. Time and speed will give the figures to calculate the distance.

The time at both places is expected to be [illegible] from the United States Naval observatory, which will broadcast exact time signals for use of astronomers studying the May 20 eclipse. The Argentine Naval observatory at Buenos Aires also may broadcast time signals.

The [illegible] of 60 feet is partly due to the fact that the precise [illegible] to [illegible] not [illegible] for [illegible] of a second after the shadow reaches a given point.

Rail Wreck Hero Finds Suffering Democratic

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, May 14—Suffering [illegible] the greatest democratic experience, maintains Rabbi George B. Lieberman, 38-year-old Canton, O., rabbi, who spent an agonizing night in the wreckage of a train.

The rabbi, his legs partially paralyzed as the result of injuries received in the crash of the Red Arrow passenger train last Feb. 18, told friends that while pinned in the wreckage he recited the 23rd psalm and buoyed the spirits of other injured around him.

He said the experience taught him that "the greatest democracy is that of suffering."

Dog Owners Warned Of City Quarantine

The city health department today issued a reminder that the dog quarantine imposed a month ago is still in effect. Dog owners in the city have not been complying closely with orders to keep dogs tied.

Not only is the quarantine still in effect, department officials said, but enforcement will be more rigid in the future. In order to prevent danger from rabies, all dogs running loose will be picked up, the department warns.

FLOOD CONTROL FUND CUT SHOWDOWN DUE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 14—A showdown house fight against drastic money cuts for flood control and navigation is shaping up.

Numerous Republicans and Democrats alike said today they are ready to fight to detour the current economy drive away from projects in their states and districts.

Their goal is an appropriation at least equalling the sum recommended by President Truman. They'd like more.

These legislators contend that congress is obligated to supply funds each year to carry forward projects already authorized. The ultimate cost of these would exceed $3,900,000,000.

The President recommended a $314,000,000 expenditure in the 12 months beginning July 1. This would cover $188,356,000 for general flood control, $24,000,000 for Mississippi flood defense, and $102,000,000 for rivers and harbors.

But he stipulated that the money be spent only on projects for which funds had been appropriated previously.

The house appropriations committee will begin hearings late this month. This will signal the showdown. Army engineers will present their program. Projects which get appropriations will be made public after the hearings.

Proponents argue that an annual expenditure of at least $300,000,000 is needed to assure orderly development of the country's vast inland waterway system as approved by congress.

4-H Club Advisors Map Summer Activities

Plans for 4-H club activities during the summer months were discussed when the Marion county 4-H club advisors committee met last night in the office of County Extension Agent Arthur H. Smith.

The committee made preliminary plans for the annual 4-H club advisors and officers conference in June and discussed the summer camp program and general 4-H club policies to be followed this year.

Large Marion county delegations are planning to attend the summer camps at Camp Pittinger near Tiffin. Dates of the camps are as follows: junior camp, July 24 to July 28, senior camp, July 28 to Aug. 1 and the women's camp, Aug. 1 to Aug. 4.

Members of the advisors committee include Mrs. Henry Barnard and Miss Helen Medwick, both of Grand Prairie township, Roy Holdridge of Morral, Warren Seiter of Pleasant township and Kenneth Pangborn of Martel.

Elect 4-H Officers

UPPER SANDUSKY—Officers elected by the Harpster Girls 4-H club for the coming year are Norma Jean Kitts, president, Rosann Tschantz, vice president; Helen Turney, secretary-treasurer, Margaret McAlpin and Donna Brewer, recreational leaders. The club adopted the name "Harpster Four-Leaf Clover Maids."

Pupils at Morral To Present Plays

Two one-act plays, "All Cats To the Rescue" and "According To Doyle," will be presented by the speech department of the Morral High school Friday, May 16, at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium, as part of the closing school activities. Admission will be 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children, and all proceeds will go to finance a trip for the juniors and seniors to Washington, D. C., at the close of school. Directing the plays is William Harrington.

Members of the cast of "All Cats To the Rescue" are Virgil Hite, Ruth Fox, Claribel Newland, Richard Granlee, Judy Campbell, Edward Schertzer, Mary Radel and Betty Brady. Taking part in the cast of "According To Doyle" are Virginia Pace, Jack Lill, Thelma Neal, Dorothy Herbert, Fred McCumber, Roger Augenstein, Wilma Sloat and Lloyd Miner.

A half-hour program of band music will be presented between the plays by the Morral school band. The band is directed by George Lane.

To Show Sound Film For Home Residents

Inaugurating a feature of entertainment for the Marion County home Sunday afternoon, the Business and Professional Women's club will show a sound motion picture film. It is planned to use the picture projector owned by the Y. M. C. A.

At the last meeting of the club it was voted to make the entertainment a monthly event, with members of the club divided into groups to form a committee for each month of the 12-month project. Mrs. Glenna Snyder is general chairman in charge. The committee named for this month includes Mrs. William Barnhouse, Mrs. Wray Beaver, Miss Ferol Burley and Miss Elaine Ballinger, working in cooperation with Clarence Keil, superintendent of the home. The picture will be shown at 2 o'clock.

Arrangements for the monthly program will be made so as not to interfere with religious services which are taken to the home two Sunday afternoons a month by Marion church groups.

"He left a good practice so we could come here to educate our three children," said Mrs. Tydings.

Begins Boarding Students

The family bought a large white frame house a short distance from the campus. There was more space than they needed so Mrs. Tydings rented some of her rooms to students. She also began boarding them.

Her original idea was to eke out the family income while Dr. Tydings was getting established. After that it just became a habit. More than a hundred and fifty boys have [illegible] in her home.

"In the main they were well behaved and pleasant," she recalled. "Generally they were serious in their studies and most have done well since."

Lady's Arm Was Bent Up Double Like A Jack-Knife

The lady recently stated that her arm used to bend up doubled up like a jack-knife. She couldn't move her arm up or down because her muscles were stiff with rheumatic pains and the joints were swollen. She said she was ashamed to leave her house because people would stare at her. Finally she got RHU-AID and says she now can raise her arm above her head and the swelling left her elbow and shoulder. The awful pain and stiffness is gone. She is enjoying life once more and feels like "some other woman" since taking this New Compound.

RHU-AID contains Three Great Medicinal Ingredients which go right to the very source of rheumatic aches and pains. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get RHU-AID. Sold All Drug Stores throughout this section.—Adv.

Pinning Down the Lie

RUSSIAN movie-makers are making a film based on the Kremlin's lie that Allied invasion of Europe was postponed until 1944 to give Germany time to bleed Russia white before rescuing it. Winston Churchill is represented as the villain, Franklin D. Roosevelt as the helpless puppet in this version.

It's no secret that Mr. Churchill never liked the government of the Soviet Union. But it never has been any secret either that the government of the Soviet Union loosed Hitler on Europe and Great Britain by making a non-aggression treaty with Germany when Mr. Churchill's country was trying desperately to prepare its defense. That treaty left Britain and France alone against the world's strongest military power. It was the cause of Britain bearing the brunt of the war until the United States could pull abreast of events, a struggle in which it was handicapped heavily by the sabotage of Russia's sympathizers in its own population.

These same sympathizers, after Hitler turned on his Russian ally, couldn't wait for the Allies to invade Europe across the English Channel, an operation which would have been suicidal any time before it began, in June 1944. In this attitude, too, the sympathizers put the interests of Russia first, the United States second, a fact Americans aren't likely to forget for a long time to come. The Soviet Union was bled white by a war it made possible. If it had joined Great Britain and France against Germany in 1939, instead of joining Germany, Hitler wouldn't have dared to go to war at all. Since it is obviously Communist intent to repeat and repeat and repeat one of history's biggest lies, to shift blame for Russia's war tragedy to a point outside the Kremlin, it is necessary to pin down the lie every time it's repeated. A similar lie about the Treaty of Versailles, repeated and repeated and repeated after World War I, ultimately became one of the causes of World War II because it wasn't pinned down often enough.

Lovett for Acheson

WHEN the chief executive of the United States deplores the financial sacrifices of public service, as he did in accepting the resignation of Dean Acheson as undersecretary of state, it's time to acknowledge that the United States will get in the long run what it pays for—not much more.

Acheson was capable. He was valuable in his position. But he has been trying to quit for the last two years because he couldn't afford to hold down one of the world's toughest jobs for $9,000 a year. In the practice of law, he could make many times that much, so he is going to practice law. His successor will be Robert A. Lovett, who apparently can afford to work for the government; he previously served as assistant secretary of war.

Government service in a republic shouldn't be restricted to those who can afford it. Noblesse oblige was a credo for monarchies, not republics.

No Time To Stall

IT IS vitally important that the United States knows how it stands on universal military training before congress adjourns in midsummer.

Without waiting for a report from his nine-man advisory commission, President Truman indicates he will support the war department's plan. Meanwhile, congress has been marking time, waiting to hear from the commission, which has held several meetings and visited the experimental training battalion at Fort Knox. Sentiment is strong for the bill in the house, but in the senate Mr. Taft says he doubts time can be found for consideration of it this year.

If UMT is approved, it would take five years to build up the 4,000,000-man reserve the army requests. If its opponents can muster sufficient arguments and votes to kill it, we should know this summer so that long-range military planning can take fact into consideration. UMT cannot be a halfway measure. Either we have it or we don't. It's a problem which should be met squarely and a forthright decision taken without delay.*

Twice before we have had to do a rush job of training an army while others carried on the war. We'll never have that luck again. For all the stories of push-button warfare and guided missiles, we shall still need men who know how to handle themselves and care for others in an emergency, who can take up a piece of equipment and use it without 13 weeks of frantic basic training.

The only alternative to UMT is to abolish war forever. Take a look at the world today. Ask yourself if we are nearing that optimum condition. Then remember that we have had two world wars in this century because agressive nations figured the United States was too weak to stop them.

Did You Know?

Rural areas, including smaller towns, have about half the children under 16 and a larger proportion of people over 65 years old than the United States as a whole.

During World War II 71 per cent of war death claims paid by commercial U. S. insurance companies (not including National Service Life Insurance) were for battle deaths.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Russians Aim at Breakdown in America.

WASHINGTON, May 14—A government authority, competent to speak officially, gave warning privately to newsmen that Russian diplomatic tactics are stabilized at a threatening level contemplating the breakdown of American interest in Europe with Russian control, particularly of American trade. They are waiting for us to let down, permitting them to move in throughout Europe as chaos develops. This will so affect American production and trade as to encourage an economic crisis here.

Possibility of war has not been overlooked. Defending our interests could conceivably lead us to it.

While the coming months may appear as a stalemated hiatus of unspectacular developments, we have only pierced superficialities. Preliminaries have been swept aside. We are now playing the vital game. This may be said to be the official diplomatic denials to the contrary notwithstanding.

State Secretary Marshall is moving along planned ways, meeting no obstacles from Truman or Republicans. We will continue Greek-Turk aid which may have stopped the threatened Communist guerrilla or Balkan aggression against Greece this spring or Russian spring action against Turkey. Indications suggest both Greece and Turkey have the situation better in hand at the mere prospect of the aid.

German Stabilization

Marshall also will move to stabilize the occupation of Germany and Austria on a quasi-permanent basis. The Russians do not want peace treaties that would fix final conclusions upon which Europe could be permanently rebuilt. This is more evident than readers may realize. At the Moscow conference the Russians blocked even the offered 25-to-40-year peace treaty between the Big Four nations, attempting to load down the draft with every possible point of difference between Russia and her wartime allies. Thus she blocked even stabilization of peace between the Big Four.

In doing the best he can with a Russian-blocked peace, Marshall will develop first aid to Korea and probably to Italy and France. He is gathering his old war time friends and coworkers from the War department around him. The departure of Undersecretary Acheson heralded a rather full top reorganization of state. His replacement by former Air War Secretary Lovett, who planned the great bombing attack, furnishes the theme.

Other replacements will lead to a friendlier turn in Latin-American policy and clear the way for a conference of American foreign ministers to implement the Chapultepec arrangement for American co-operation. We may strive to establish all-American use of standard United States military equipment.

Source of Oppositions

Marshall will face important opposition from only one source, the left-leaning groups who charge him with trying to get us into war. Conditions were never better, however, for him to get us into some stability of peace. Communism has killed itself around the world to a considerable extent by its anti-patriotic and supernational tactics against popular hopes for peace in France. Socialists are able to ban Communists from their cabinet. Communist leadership has become so unpopular that even in the Balkans pro-Russian regimes are arresting their political adversaries to maintain themselves.

As Communists dash their heads against the rocks of public opinion around the world, and as Russia does not wish war and is not prepared, the situation calls for us to build up our peaceful interests and cause her to wait in vain. The critical period is immediately ahead.

For Drinking Purposes Only?

"Whisky, being a stimulant, is entirely out of order in the treatment of snake-bite," according to the Manual of First Aid Instruction of the U. S. department of interior.

This information, while interesting, will not be received with any great joy. For of all the popular fallacies, this is undoubtedly the most.

Of course, in informed circles, whisky has long been regarded as a protective rather than a curative agent insofar as snake-bite is concerned. Else why the old saying among fishermen that a fifth of preventive is worth a pound of cure?

Moreover, it is noteworthy that during the Volstead era the sale of medicinal spirits was greatest in urban areas where for years the only snakes had been of the two-legged variety.

Indeed, in view of the known affinity for reptiles to water, future historians will doubtless ponder the reasons why. In instances of local option, snakes seem to have thrived in the "dry" communities.

Be that as it may, denounced as a treatment for snake-bite and its value as a cold remedy previously deprecated, whisky continues in good demand. Apparently, millions still look to it as a cure . . . if only for the thirst.

The British Partnership

By STEWART ALSOP

(This is the first of three columns summarizing Stewart Alsop's conclusions after three months in the Middle East and England.)

THE infinite boredom in a little room which trans-Atlantic plane travel provides leaves the returning traveler little alternative to thought. To one who has seen, however briefly, something of the contest between the Soviet Union and the West now in progress throughout the Near and Middle East, the likeliest subject with which to while away the long hours is simply this: Can we do the job?

Certainly the effort which has already started, to checkmate Soviet expansion by promoting political and economic stability in the Middle East and elsewhere in the world, will not be an easy job. Yet given certain conditions, it can be done.

One condition is painfully obvious. That is that Great Britain remain a major world power. American policy in the Middle East is based squarely on the assumption that Great Britain remain a good long-term bet. This is so simply because a total British economic collapse, or a wholesale withdrawal of British influence (or what is more likely, both together) would leave a vast vacuum far more easily filled by the Soviet Union than by the United States. The question is therefore pertinent: "How good a bet is Great Britain?"

Different Viewpoints

To that question you can find in England an infinite variety of answers. "You can write us off," one prominent Tory remarked to this reporter, with that intense pleasure in the lugubrious sometimes attributed to the unadmirable English weather.

"Glance at the coal cuts for this summer, glance at the export figures, and stop fooling yourselves. England will never make it." A dwindling number of enthusiastic Socialists see the Socialist millenium ushered in within a couple of years or so, with plenty for all and dancing on the village green. What appears to be the most sensible and informed observers place the answer somewhere between these extremes. Their mood is one of guarded optimism. They are betting on England, but they have their fingers crossed.

There are all sorts of reasons why no sensible man would dare to uncross his fingers in the near future. Coal is one. Coal is at the heart of the British economic crisis; if coal production were suddenly and miraculously to equal pre-war, the whole country would be out of the woods tomorrow. Yet this month the hours of work at the coal face have been reduced to thirty-five, and played-out Welsh mines, their seams almost run out, are still worked, while rich new unexploited mines in Yorkshire are badly undermanned. The problem is partly human and partly political. The miners exhibit the same curious lethargy which characterizes many workers in many industries in post-war Britain. The government has no carrot in the form of consumption goods to offer them, and since it is politically dependent on their good will, it dare not use a stick. Yet there are signs that the meaning of the terrible coal crisis of the winter has struck home, and that nationalization has provided a morale boost. Despite wildcat strikes, the production curve is gently up.

Problem of Management

Another symptom of the reason why fingers remain crossed may be found in the simple fact that during the recent Easter recess of parliament most of the members of the cabinet took to their beds in utter exhaustion. They were on the verge of total collapse simply because of the desperate shortage of efficient personnel to manage the immense business of transforming Britain into a semi-Socialist state. One high Labor party official remarked to this reporter that before the war he and his friends had always imagined that the greatest obstacle to successful Socialism would be the bitter intransigeance to the ruling class; but they had found that the real trouble was not barricades in the streets but getting good men to run the show. The transfer of the basic economic power into the hands of the state presupposes men with the technical training to manage this vast power. Such men have too often been lacking, and the result has not infrequently been something close to total administrative breakdown. But here, too, there are signs of improvement.

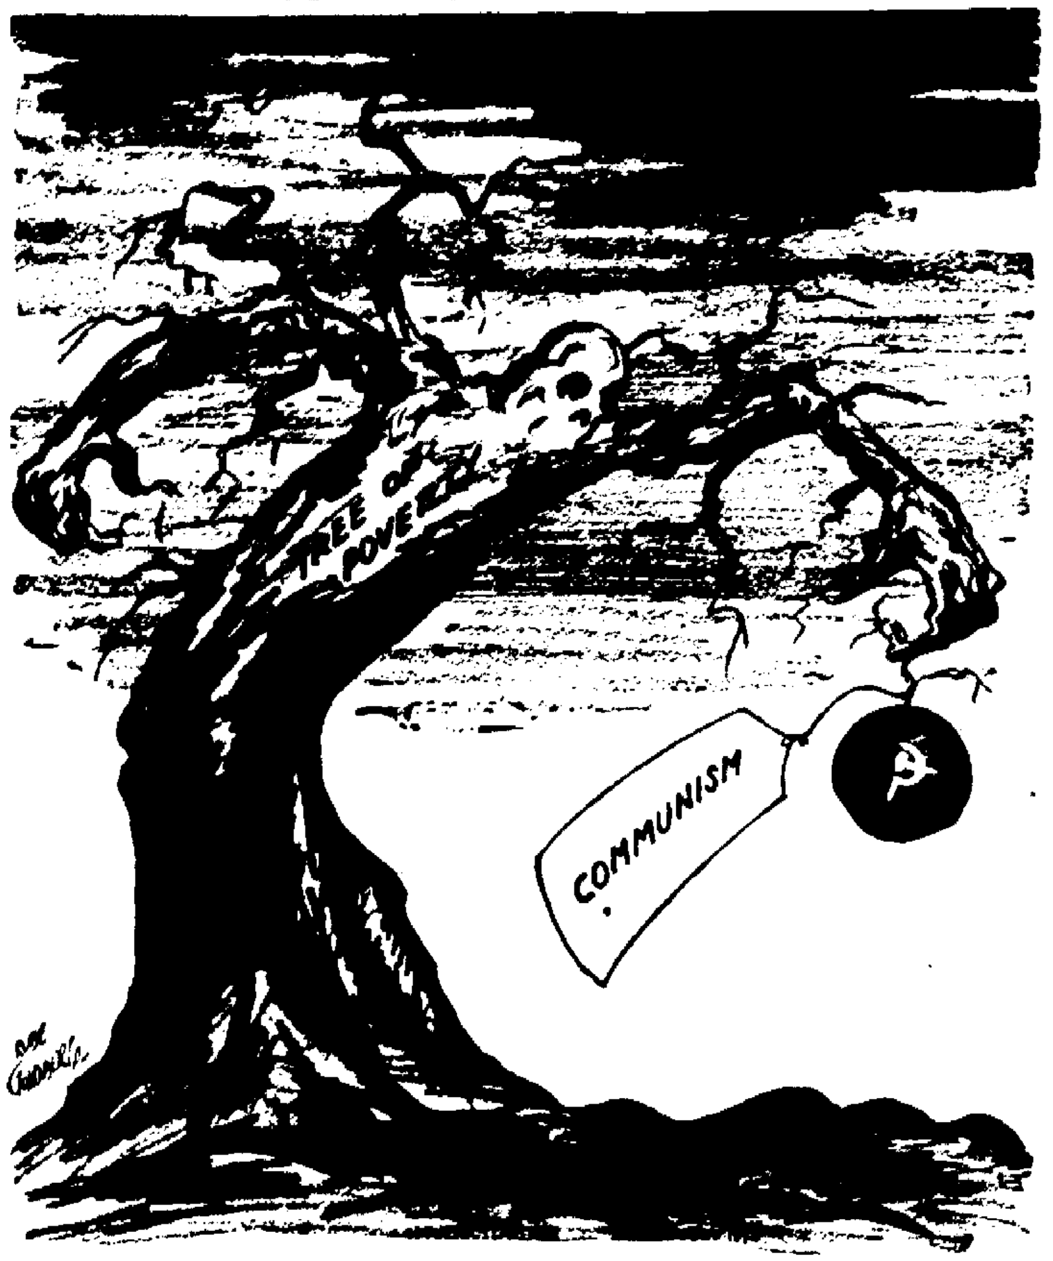
Yet the plain fact is that whatever government were in power (and the Tory leaders in private conversation thank their lucky stars that they were beaten in 1945) Great Britain would inevitably be sailing perilously close to the wind in these postwar years. British economists, when they go to bed at night, must pray for the return of the world buyers' market in food. When that time comes, not only will Britain be able to buy the food at lower prices to keep 49 million people alive, but the strength of the British economic posiiton as the world's great market will again be restored. But until that time comes, the British economy will bump along from crisis to crisis, now showing signs of recovery, now seemingly about to sink without trace.

If and when it becomes clear that the British economy is in fact faced with total collapse, the United States will be confronted with a crisis of foreign policy which will make the Greek crisis seem in retrospect a mere teapot tempest. It is the certainty that an economic collapse is on the way, and that such a collapse will force the Labor government to cut its world commitments, to divorce its policy from that of the United States and to appease the Soviet Union, that gives the Labor rebels their perfect confidence that they will win in the end.

In this prospect, the United States can do more than cross its fingers. Among both American and British policy makers there is a growing conviction that some sort of overall agreement on the parts both nations must play in the coming few years is essential. Such an agreement would be specifically designed to take some of the heavy and disproportionate load off British shoulders while Britain fights for her economic life. For Britain, it would be a form of life insurance against the economic storms looming visibly on the British horizon. For the United States, such an agreement would also be life insurance: insurance against the unthinkable catastrophe of the loss of the only dependable ally in the effort to contain Soviet expansion and reach a true world settlement.

In England the day after Christmas is called Boxing Day because on that day the Christmas boxes placed in the churches for contributions are opened and the contents distributed to those who give small services without pay.

BEARING EVIL FRUIT



Japanese Economic Formula

By MORRIS J. HARRIS

WASHINGTON — The Pacific Allies in writing the formula for Japan's economic peace say they have set an example in international cooperation that European peace-makers might well well emulate.

They have agreed upon a yardstick to determine the empire's future standard of living.

This common denominator of the Allies' economic aims for Japan was hammered out here by the Far East Commission, composed of representatives of each nation.

Nations comprising the Far East Commission are United States, China, United Kingdom, Australia, India, The Netherlands, The Philippines, France, New Zealand, Russia and Canada.

Average Provided

In brief, the formula is that Japan shall be allowed to regain for her average man the standard of living he enjoyed during the Japan period 1930-'34.

This in no sense is a guarantee from the Allies that Japan's people are to soon again enjoy this standard of living.

Instead in the words of an Allied spokesman, "the formula merely tells the Japanese we will leave to them the necessary tools with which they may ultimately recover the standard living they enjoyed during the indicated years."

The Commission says the years 1930-'34 comprise an indicative cross-section of Japan's "traditional" standard of living.

What was that 1930-'34 standard of living?

Cross-Section Study

The Commission undertook no survey of the whole of the Japanese economy as it existed at that time. But it did go into enough of it to cause its members to conclude it had the cross-section it desired.

A few highpoints:

During the period 1930-'34, says the Commission, the average man in Japan enjoyed a daily food intake of 2,300 calories. At present it is said to be 1,500 calories for city folk. Farmers probably are enjoying more because they are not releasing as much of the food they produce as they should to meet regulations.

(The U. S. Agriculture Department says the average American got about 3,400 calories in 1930-'34. A preliminary 1945 figure is slightly under that.)

Steel Tells Story

During 1930-'34 Japan's average man used an annual average of 35½ kilograms (about 17 pounds) of finished steel. (The American Iron and Steel Institute says Americans averaged 280 pounds in 1930-'34 and 300 pounds in 1946. Automobiles would reflect a large part of the difference.)

The per capita yearly textile consumption for the period was 9.8 pounds of yarn. (U. S. 1930-'34 average, 25.6 pounds; 1946, 45 pounds—Textile Economics Bureau.)

It is such levels as these that the Far East Commission, in adopting its 1930-'34 formula, is making available to Japan if the empire can bring them about.

Measured in terms of the newly adopted formula, it is estimated by various Commission members that Japan's present living standard varies from 30 per cent to 40 per cent of what she enjoyed during the indicated period.

Far Below U. S.

This 1930-'34 level was nothing luxurious. In terms of 1930 Japanese prices, Japan's average man during the five year period registered a yearly consumption totaling 154.50 yen (about $50 at exchange rates then).

(The U. S. Commerce Department puts average American consumption at about $405 for 1930-'34 and $901 for 1946).

With the allied formula now determined, the next job before the Far East Commission is to get the formula working. To do so, the Commission expects it will have to examine all major lines of industry in Japan, making allowances for technological, population and other changes having taken place within the empire since 1930-'34.

The Commission expects it will require two years to complete this task.

THE NATION TODAY

Fate of Labor-Restricting Bill Still Far from Being Settled

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, May 14—Will President Truman veto the labor bill? Can congress re-pass it into law over his veto? Don't bet either way.

The house, several weeks ago, and the senate, yesterday, passed separate bills to restrict labor unions.

James Marlow

The house bill is tougher than the senate's. Both are tougher than the restrictions of unions Mr. Truman asked for.

But — these separate bills won't go to Mr. Truman to sign into law or veto. He'll get a single, compromise bill made up of both bills.

That compromise bill will be worked out by a special joint committee of both houses. They may take weeks to work out the compromise.

Meantime labor unions will scream for a veto, many businessmen will protest against one. All of which means plenty of pressure.

Veto Action in Doubt

Say Mr. Truman vetoes the compromise bill. Will congress have enough votes to re-pass it into law over the veto? No one can answer that now.

Passage of any bill needs only a simple majority vote of both houses. That doesn't mean a majority of total membership but only of those voting.

But to re-pass a vetoed bill into law, both houses must approve with a two-thirds vote of those voting, far harder to get then a simple majority.

But both houses were so anxious to restrict unions that they passed their separate bills overwhelmingly. They went far beyond majority votes.

Both by Two-Thirds

Both passed their bills by better than two-thirds not only of those voting but of total membership.

Thus it might seem they could ram through a better-than-two-thirds vote to re-pass a vetoed compromise bill. Not necessarily.

The house probably would do it. Any compromise bill seems sure to be milder than the very tough bill originally passed by the house.

So house members, unless some were reluctant to vote over a presidential veto, would have no reason for not giving a two-thirds vote again.

It's slightly different in the senate. The compromise bill may turn out to be a little tougher than the original senate bill passed by two-thirds.

Some Senators May Switch

So some of the senators who voted for the milder original senate bill might vote against a tougher, compromise bill if it's vetoed.

This shows that the final outcome is uncertain, but don't be surprised if both houses override a veto with a two-thirds vote.

Here's how the voting went in house and senate on the original bills.

House—308 to 107. That 308 was more than two-thirds (288) of the 432 house members. Usually there are 435 but three have died.

Senate—68 to 24. That 68 was more than two-thirds (64) of the senate's total 95 members. Usually there are 96 but Senator Bilbo, Mississippi Democrat, hasn't been seated.

A grenadier originally was a soldier who carried and threw hand grenades.

KINSEY PLAYERS OPENING SET HERE MONDAY NIGHT

Will Be At Fairgrounds During Week.

The Madge Kinsey Players will open the 1947 summer season here Monday night at the Marion county fairgrounds. The company made its winter headquarters here and the opening climaxes long preparation for the season.

Established in 1888 the show is one of the oldest on the road and has played in Marion for many seasons.

The opening play will be "Toby and the Girl Next Door," a comedy. With the largest cast of actors, singers and dancers in the show's history the Players will again feature the antics of comedian Toby Long, who was with the show here last September.

A different show and vaudeville acts will be presented each night through Sunday, May 25.

The show will go from here to Upper Sandusky and will tour Ohio during the summer.

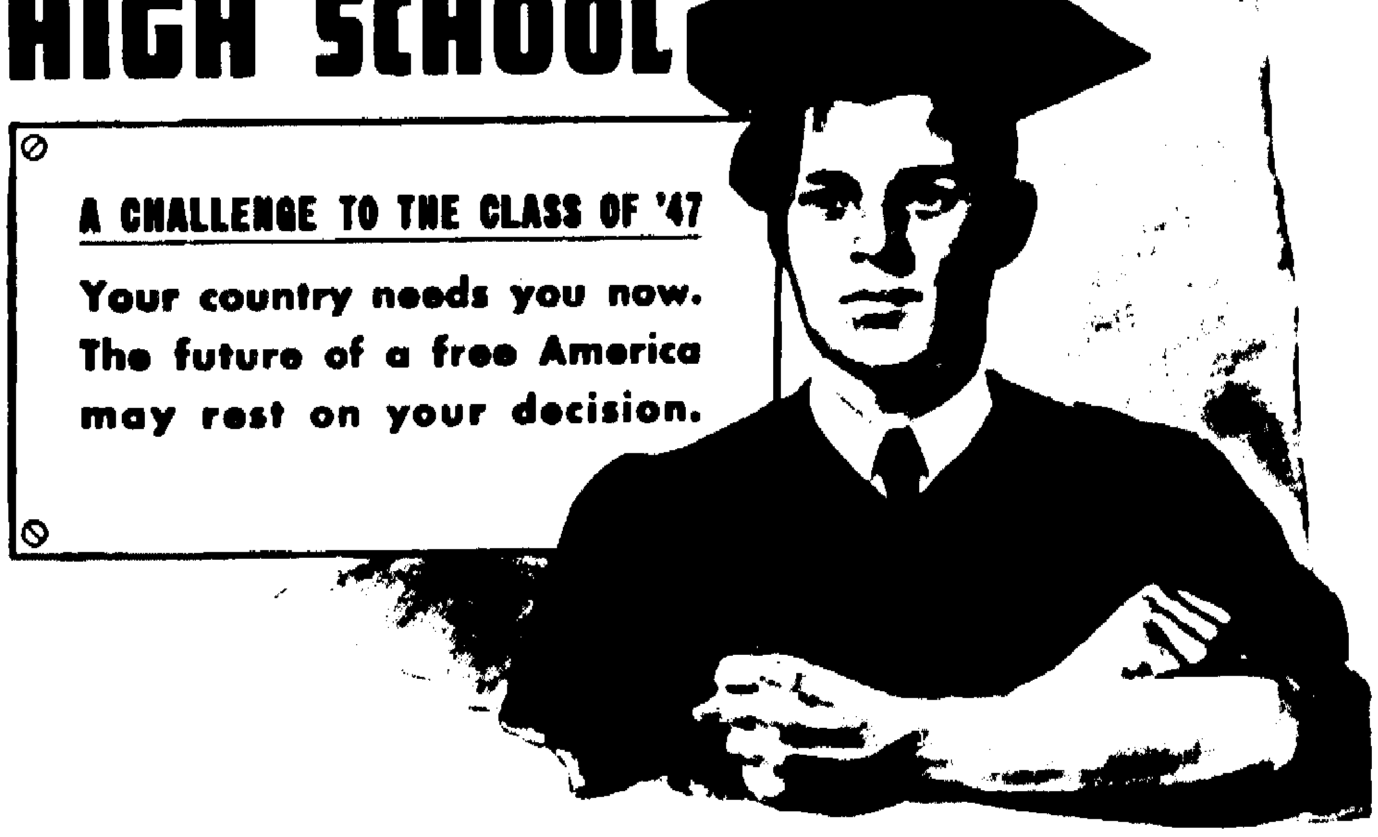
TO EVERY YOUNG MAN

about to graduate from

HIGH SCHOOL



A CHALLENGE TO THE CLASS OF '47

Your country needs you now. The future of a free America may rest on your decision.

There is no Draft today to put you in the Army. Yours is the first graduating class since 1940 that faces a free choice. But with that freedom, as with every freedom, goes responsibility.

The nation has put the maintenance of a strong, alert, defensive force squarely up to you. This is the only country in the world that dares to raise and maintain a million-man Army by voluntary enlistment, in the American tradition. The duty of keeping our Army ready for emergencies is shared by every citizen — for never before, in peacetime, has the need for it been greater.

Our freedom, our ideals, the safety of our families, depend on a world peace backed by firmness and justice. It's your Army now — yours to keep strong.

Joining the Army as a volunteer may mean some sacrifice to you. On the other hand, you have much to gain from the experience. Sound physical condition, training in leadership, world travel and adventure, the comradeship of a fine group of young men, a job with a real future at better pay than you can get in most civilian work — all these make the Army an excellent career for young men who can measure up to its high standards. And you will be entitled to educational benefits under the GI Bill of Rights, if you enlist before Congress officially terminates the war.

Before making your decision, get the full story of this career opportunity at your nearest U. S. Army Recruiting Station.

VISITS TO GRAVES OF WAR'S FALLEN ASKED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 14—President Truman's suggestion that the government make it possible for gold star mothers and widows to visit the graves of their loved ones in overseas military cemeteries follows the pattern adopted after the World War I.

War department quartermaster records show that of 11,440 mothers and widows eligible to make the first pilgrimage, 6,733 expressed a desire to go and 6,693 actually did journey overseas.

Mr. Truman's statement yesterday said the new pilgrimages "should be organized after the permanent military cemeteries have been established and after the erection of headstones and memorial chapels has sufficiently advanced to give assurance of the perpetual care which our country will devote to the resting places of our honored dead."

Mr. Truman expressed the belief that if relatives could see for themselves the care which is devoted to the graves of those who died in the First World War, and "to the cemeteries in which their own dead lie buried today, many of the next-of-kin would prefer that their loved ones should rest forever in the cemeteries where they fell."

The quartermaster corps, which is responsible for returning the remains of war dead if relatives desire, has had replies from about 10,000 of the first 20,000 inquiries sent out to determine survivor wishes.

Of the 10,000 about 76 per cent asked that the remains be brought home. The war department had expected about 80 per cent to feel this way.

PAPER STRIKE IN 6TH DAY

By The Associated Press

PAINESVILLE, O, May 14—A strike by International Typographical Union members against the Painesville Telegraph today entered its sixth day after editorial employes of the paper published a full edition yesterday for the fifth time by use of teletypewriter machines. Unionists demand an hourly wage increase of 25 cents, said a union spokesman. Current average rate of printers employed by the Telegraph is $1.25 hourly.

The Phoenicians were a branch of the Semites, the same race to which the ancient Hebrews belonged.

War of the Future Studied by Secret Army Planning Trio

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 14 — Three youthful officers, their identities [illegible] by a secrecy [illegible] in the Army top bracket are trying to [illegible] 25 years from now.

They will attempt a reasonable guess on the fantastic means of destruction science may devise for a possible new outbreak of combat between nations.

Then they will give Gen. Dwight D Eisenhower a picture of the command problems such new horrors would involve.

Lifting a corner of the secrecy which has veiled this "advanced study group" since its appointment several months ago, the chief of staff let it be known today that he is isolating the officers from the war department's regular operation and planning staff.

Taking orders from no one—although their highest rank is a colonelcy—the three will ignore the weapons and maneuvers of World War II and think in terms of the future.

Not knowing who they are will prevent other officers from plying them with lore about how the recent war was run.

"If they associated with us day by day they'll get cluttered up with our problems," Eisenhower says. The operation and planning staff works on day-to-day military matters.

The study group's research goes everywhere, Eisenhower says, "since everything affects war."

Behind this statement to reporters was the implication of improved atomic weapons, germ warfare and means to inflict unheard-of mass destruction on a nation's social system and economy.

WAGE RATE RAISED AT HYDRAULIC PRESS

10.4 Cents Increase in Mt. Gilead Firm's Contract.

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, May 14 — A general wage increase of 10.4 cents per hour for approximately 300 hourly employed shop employes of the Hydraulic Press Mfg Co at Mt Gilead has been granted by Col. H A Toulmin Jr., company president.

Wage increase provisions were contained in a contract signed by Colonel Toulmin and representatives of Local 1319, International Association of [illegible] contract is for a period of one year and may continue indefinitely after that unless opened for renegotiation at the end of the contract year.

In addition to wage [illegible] payment at time and one-half for work performed [illegible] and double time [illegible] A five cent shift differential is granted on the second and third [illegible] are unchanged [illegible] at one week's vacation pay after one year's work.

The new contract also provides for an additional 3.8 cents increase in lieu of the bonus [illegible] hourly shop employes under the old contract. Last year's bonus totaled approximately the amount of the 3.8 increase granted in the new contract.

You helped with all your might;
The darkest days and saddest nights,
You aimed to make them bright.
Not only do we miss you, Mom,
But your friends both far and near
Will share with us the grief we bear
In the loss of a friend so dear.

Store Entered
Entrance to the Purdy Used Furniture company on North Main street last night or this morning was gained by lifting the grating in front of the store and crawling through a small hole in the basement, according to a police report. Police were notified of the break-in this morning. Nothing was reported missing and it is doubtful that anything could have been taken out through the small hole through which entry was gained. The main section of the store was not broken into.

MEDICAL ACADEMY BACKS CANCER DRIVE

Contribution of $25 Voted to Campaign Here.

A contribution of $25 was made to the local campaign of the American Cancer Society at a meeting of the Marion County Academy of Medicine Tuesday night at the City hospital. The meeting was devoted to business preparatory to closing the organization's activities for July and August.

The handling of emergencies such as accidents to transients when the immediate services of doctors and surgeons are of major importance was discussed and Dr. Floyd Yeager, Dr. F. G. Smith and Dr. Merritt K. Marshall were named a committee to set up a system whereby medical aid may be obtained and contacts between the hospital and doctors made in the least possible time.

The members voted to continue their meeting at Hotel Harding for the remainder of the year and also to continue the practice of inviting doctors from nearby counties to attend the monthly meeting. After June meetings will be discontinued until September.

WOMAN SLAIN WHEN SHE TRIES TO UNMASK BANDIT

Angered Holdup Man Shoots Victim as She Grabs Handkerchief.

By The Associated Press

PEORIA, Ill., May 14—A holdup man angered because a woman victim attempted to tear his mask from his face shot her to death here early today while she was parked with a man in an automobile.

The dead woman was Mrs. Olive Baker, 28, wife of Marshall Baker. Detectives Harry Schultz and George Gridley said William Dollard, 30, a mill clerk on vacation, told them this story.

Dollard and Mrs. Baker were parked on a lonely road about 1:15 a. m. today when a man wearing a handkerchief mask opened the car door on Mrs. Baker's side.

"This is a holdup. I want some money," the bandit said.

Mrs. Baker grabbed at his mask and the bandit placed the pistol at Mrs. Baker's throat, fired once, and fled.

Dollard was released.

Cleveland To Battle Pigeons with Whistle

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, May 14—Pesky pigeons which annually destroy the grass in public square soon will face a new weapon—a supersonic whistle—in the city's fight to chase them away.

The whistle creates an awful din in pigeon ears but is inaudible to humans.

Public Properties Director Arthur L. Munson, who has had the square freshly sodded, said it had been used successfully at Churchill Downs race track in Louisville and would be tried out here soon.

N. Y. Phone Workers To Cross Picket Lines

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 14 — The 8,000 members of Local 1, American Union of Telephone Workers, who have been respecting picket lines of the Association of Communication Equipment Workers, today were ordered back to work in the long lines department of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Norma F. Naughton, president of the local, said in a statement the action was taken after the national AUTW office said locals no longer were obligated to the National Federation of Telephone Workers policy in observing picket lines of other affiliates.

The NFTW, which called the nationwide strike April 7, estimated yesterday that at least 175,000 of the original 340,000 strikers still were out pending settlements to be reached through local negotiations.

Columbus To Remain Ohio Military Center

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 14—This capital city will continue as center for the state's military activities after May 31 when the Fifth Service command at Ft. Hayes will be dissolved.

Columbus remains headquarters for the Ohio military district administration and supply center of the organized reserve corps. Colonel John E. McMahon said yesterday the Fort's induction center will be closed Thursday.

Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler's future assignment has not been announced. The Fifth area commander has been at his present post since February, 1946.

Ted Williams Slugs Two Homers for Boy Facing Legless Life

By The Associated Press

MALDEN, Mass., May 14 — Stout hearted 11-year-old Glenny Dunn — buoyed by two home runs Boston Red Sox slugger Ted Williams hit for him — was reconciled today to a life on artificial legs.

Glenny's limbs were amputated after he had been accidentally burned at the stake about a month ago while playing cowboys and Indians with two young companions, but physicians withheld the information from him until yesterday.

Dr. William H. Fisher, who performed the surgery at Malden hospital, told the youngster the disheartening news shortly after Williams and Red Sox Pitcher Joe Dobson had visited him.

His first tearful reaction was "Does my mother know?" Assured she did, the boy's thoughts turned to the future. "Will I be able to walk?" he asked.

Dr. Fisher told him about the "wonderful success" war veterans were having with artificial legs, even to the extent of participating in sports.

Glenny brushed away the last falling tears. "Okay," he responded courageously. "When do I start learning to use them?"

A few hours later the youngster was the happiest and most enthusiastic radio baseball fan on the hospital porch. He waited patiently for Williams to hit that homer "he promised me."

Williams came through with not one but two — both for Glenny.

When Glenny retired for the night he told nurses: "It isn't so bad to have your legs off after all."

Illinois Girl Found Murdered in Alley

By The Associated Press

RANTOUL, Ill., May 14—An attractive 21-year-old beauty parlor operator was found today beaten and strangled to death with her underclothing torn off in an alley behind a garage.

Authorities had not determined immediately whether the victim, Miss Elma Lucille Kietzman, had been raped.

A rope had been wrapped twice around her neck. Her face had been beaten, her knees were skinned and she was unclad from the waist down.

Mrs. Lucille Strawn, another beauty operator, said Miss Kietzman visited her last night and started home about 10:30 p. m.

Galion Driver Sent To Jail for One Day

LeRoy Carter of near Galion was sentenced to one day in jail when he pleaded guilty to a drunken driving charge in mayor's court at Galion Tuesday, according to the state highway patrol. Carter was arrested by patrolmen Monday afternoon on Route 30 about one and one-half miles from Galion after he lost control of a truck he was driving. The vehicle, owned by the Hocksta Coal Supply Co., was demolished.

Cincinnati Phone Loss Set at $720,000 Wages

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, May 14—The Queen City had normal telephone service today but some 3,000 employes of Cincinnati and Suburban Bell Co. were minus $720,000 in wages after their 36-day strike.

A company spokesman estimated the employe loss in basic wages, "plus considerable overtime."

The company lost an estimated $460,000 in revenue, he said, because of the non-billing of manually-operated telephones and the curtailment of long-distance calls during the dispute.

The telephone workers returned to work yesterday after picket lines of two separate unions were withdrawn under court order.

700 Hear Harding Choir in Fine Performance at Edison School

BY FRANCES HAAS

The Harding High school a cappella choir under the capable direction of L. G. Jones gave a performance which greatly merited the applause of the audience of about 700 persons which filled the Edison Junior High school auditorium last evening to hear the annual concert by the choir.

Attired in their [illegible], the voices of the 55 choir members blended in a repertoire ranging from solemn sacred numbers to light classics. As an ensemble the group displayed splendid balance and skill in singing the pianissimo passages in contrast to the forte melodies.

Also well received after displaying their knowledge of music were the vocal soloists, the girls' ensemble and the piano soloist who appeared on the evening's program with the choir.

Alan Cleveland, a senior at Harding High school and a member of the choir, once again, as in the past, gave a performance at the piano which was an inspiration to young pianists and thrilling to both see and hear. With piano accompaniment by Harold Denzer Jr., Alan Cleveland played a "Concerto" by Von Weber.

Ensemble Sings

The girls' ensemble of nine voices with piano accompaniment sang two light classics and with insistent applause from the appreciative audience returned for an encore. Their selections were "The Lass with a Delicate Air" by Arne-Baldwin, a folk song "Lauterbach" arranged by Reuter, and "When You Wish Upon a Star" from the score of a Walt Disney film.

Members of the ensemble are Joyce Snyder, Betty Weiser and Nancy Arthurs, first sopranos; Marjorie Middleton, Dorothy Rhoads and Rose Marie Hinamon, second sopranos, and Mary Ellen Hinamon, Polly Biggert and Yvonne Metzger, altos. Accompanist is Ann Ferguson.

With voices clear and vibrant the two vocal soloists, Barbara McDonald, soprano, and Pat Dearing, contralto, were also well received. Miss McDonald gave two selections, "Thanks Be To God" by Dickson and the ever popular "Estrellita" by LaForge. Returning for an encore she sang "I Love Thee," Grieg. Miss Dearing sang the popular classic "Ave Marie" by Schubert and as an encore presented Cole Porter's "Begin the Beguine."

Credit is also due the accompanist, Frederick Lacey, who played for the soloists and also for the choir.

Opening Number

The National Anthem by the choir with the audience joining in to sing opened the program. The first group of numbers which the choir presented were sacred selections, "Prayer Perfect" by Stensen, "We Thank Thee, Lord" by Bortniansky-Tkach, "Lost in the Night" by Christiansen, "Halleluya" from Etude for Chorus No. 8 by Sergei, "Softly and Tenderly" by Thompson-York and "Hear My Prayer" by James-Stickles. An incidental solo in the latter number was sung by Jackie Creager.

As an encore to the first group the choir sang the always-loved sacred song "My God and I" by Sergei, with solos by Barbara McDonald, Pat Dearing and Jim Rea.

To open the second part of the program, the choir sang "One World" by Wilson, and followed this with "Madame Jeanette" by Murray. The choir then sang a spiritual "Was Ah Fraid" by Williams with an incidental solo by Jim Rea. The next selection was a folk song "Roumanian Dance Song" transcribed by Stone, and the group then sang an up-to-date number by Rogers, "Reuben and Rachel." The words of the song, which it was noted on the program did not necessarily represent the opinions of the faculty of the school, explained that the pupils would like ten months of the year for leisure and two for study and also that they would like to prepare the examinations for the teachers to take.

In closing the program the choir sang "Russian Picnic" by Enders and "Echo Song" by Lasso. The applause was rewarded with the choir repeating the last number and then the choir response "The Lord Bless You and Keep You."

Ushers for the evening were Charlene Alexander, Betty Parsons, Alta Lee Robinson, Dick Latimore, Charles Pensinger and Dick VanVoorhis, all members of the junior choir.

Missing Marion Girl Found in Kentucky

Juvenile court authorities today said they have learned Nellie Sparks, 14, of 268 Leader street, reported missing by her mother since last Saturday afternoon, is in Louisa, Ky., with her grandmother. Authorities reported they learned of the girl's whereabouts through a letter sent by her grandmother to her mother here.

Details of how she happened to be with her grandmother were not available.

Two Co-eds Injured In Bleacher Collapse

By The Associated Press

BOWLING GREEN, O., May 14—A portable wooden bleachers collapsed on the Bowling Green university campus last night causing minor foot injuries to two co-eds.

Ruth Shanafelt, 20, of Peninsula, O., and Joanne Martin, 18, of Roanoke, Va., were the victims when the stands buckled on the rain drenched ground near the administration building.

The co-eds were among 200 other students in the stands awaiting start of an inter-fraternity sing.

GERMANS IN UGLY MOOD OVER RATIONS

By The Associated Press

Hungry Germans in the American zone were reported shifting from stolid resignation to an ugly mood of bitter resentment and the situation in the British zone was described in London as gloomy and difficult as occupation authorities tackled the rising German food crisis today.

American observers found increased antagonism being expressed openly against the United States and the American military government. AMG officials said they sensed that the American zone's German political leaders had little hope in the future.

As British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin met with his top advisers, an appeal went out from the British zone to former President Hoover telling him that the industrial Ruhr valley was threatened with chaos and starvation.

The British-sponsored German Press service reported from Dusseldorf that the local British commander in the Rhein-Wuppertal district had sent a personal letter to Bevin warning that a general collapse was virtually inevitable unless the food situation was improved.

Bevin probably will indicate at a cabinet meeting tomorrow what steps might be taken to tackle the situation in the British zone, a foreign office spokesman said in London.

Most responsible German leaders in the U. S. zone agreed with American authorities that the basic solution of the crisis was an increase in production both agricultural and industrial. But the Germans were said to be insisting that this could not be realized without more support from the United States, even now spending more in Germany than any other occupation power.

TELEGRAPH HEARING OPENS AT MT. GILEAD

To Act on Closing of Six Offices in Ohio.

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, May 14—Hearing to determine whether or not six Western Union offices in Ohio would be abandoned opened here at 10 a. m. today in the annex of the Morrow county courthouse.

Today's proceedings were devoted largely to determining whether jurisdiction should rest with the public utilities commission of Ohio or the federal communications commission.

Presiding at the opening session were Mrs. Annie [illegible] Hunting, FCC representative, and William Blake of the P.U.C.O.

Blake claimed Western Union had made no application with the P.U.C.O. to close its offices at Mt. Gilead, Marion, [illegible], Ottawa, Bellefontaine and Lebanon.

Appearing for Western Union was William G. [illegible] of New York, who denied the P.U.C.O. had jurisdiction in the case and declined to participate further in hearings before the P.U.C.O.

Others to participate in the morning's opening sessions were Mortimer Conerdan, Frank Burr and Adolph Brungs of Washington, D. C., representatives of the Commercial Telegraphers union (AFL); Harry Fitzgerald Jr., assistant attorney general of Ohio, testifying for the P.U.C.O.; Frederick G. Hamley, general solicitor of the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners; Curtis Van Sheckler, representing the Telegraph Service Co. of Ohio; Leon McCarty of Mt. Gilead, representing the Hydraulic Press Manufacturing Co., and Edward S. Smith, testifying for the FCC.

The telegraph company is proposing to incorporate its offices in the six municipalities with the local telephone offices as an economy measure. Heading the opposition to the plan is the Commercial Telegraphers union, which maintains the telegraph offices in question in most cases are more than paying their own way.

all I could see was trailers, pieces of wood and furniture flying through the air. When the debris stopped flying I rushed out to try to find my mother.

"She was still in our trailer, which weighs over 600 pounds, but it had been thrown 150 feet through the air.

"My sister was trapped beneath the branches of a tree where she had been thrown from her trailer. I freed her and then helped to rescue a number of others who were screaming from beneath the trailers and fallen trees."

Among those injured, although only slightly, is Sarah Ann Shuck, 6-month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Shuck. The baby was thrown out of her trailer when it was picked up and smashed against a tree. The child's mother was trapped inside the trailer and suffered only shock.

Concrete Building Collapses

The twister caused a concrete building at the [illegible] to collapse and ripped apart another concrete structure, the Findlay city garage, and dropped concrete blocks on four city trucks and a bus.

Police work at the scene was made difficult by the thousands who gathered on foot and in autos.

The traffic problem in Findlay was made worse by the fact that falling trees cut off streets lights. Police estimated that 25 autos were badly damaged by falling trees and the trailers which were tossed about in the camp.

Only three families were able to spend the night in their trailers. About 150 persons lived in the camp. Many of the housewives were downtown and men were at their work.

Soil Mold Shows Promise of Being Remedy for Flu

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

PHILADELPHIA, May 14—A green and black soil mold that shows promise of furnishing a drug remedy for influenza was announced to the Society of American Bacteriologists here today.

There are vaccines for flu but no drugs that specifically cure it. The mold shows some specific curative effect on chicken embryos and mice with influenza. It has not been tried on humans.

The report was made by Doctors A. J. Lehman, D. Perlstein and G. A. Snyder of Schenley Distillers Corporation, Larchmont, N. Y.

The stuff that inhibits the virus that causes flu came from a bit of earth. Just where the earth came from the authors of the report said they did not know. It was one of numerous samples of soil from all over the world. Since the penicillin and the streptomycin now used as drugs came from soil, many laboratories, searching for new wonder drugs, routinely have samples of dirt sent them from all parts of the earth.

At the Larchmont Laboratories the 47th sample of dirt yielded the mold that seems to produce an antidote for flu. It was named LL47 II, standing for Larchmont Laboratories. About 50 research workers are keeping the laboratories going day and night on experiments with the new mold.

SHARP STOCK LOSSES EXTENDED IN MARKET

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 14—The sharp losses of Tuesday's market were extended today although a number of pivotal [illegible] a measure of resistance.

Oils and rubbers were soft in fairly active early dealings but the pace was not maintained. Many declines ranging to more than a point were in the majority.

Commission houses reported customers were lightening accounts because of uneasiness over a possible veto of labor legislation, increasing price resistance and status of inventories in many lines.

Prominent on the downside were Goodyear, Goodrich, [illegible] Oil, Standard Oil (N.J.), Louisville and Nashville, Union Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio, American Telephone, U. S. Euchre Game

Chester Morris, chairman of the Legion euchre team committee, announced that a game had been played recently with the Eagles and won by the Legion, and that a return match will be held May 22 at 8 p. m. in the Legion Dugout. Any Legionaires wishing to be on the team can contact Mr. Morris.

At the next meeting, May 27, members of the ladies' auxiliary and wives of the Legionaires will be guests. Nomination and election of delegates to the sixth district convention to be held June 22 in Westerville will also be held.

Parked Cars Damaged In Pair of Accidents

Two accidents involving parked cars occurred in Marion Tuesday, according to police records.

A car owned by Henry Black of 457 North Grand avenue, parked on Center street across from the end of Jefferson street, was hit by an auto that continued on its way. A witness to the accident told police that the driver of the car apparently lost control, hitting the Black auto and narrowly missing another. The parked car was badly damaged in the rear and the hit-skip auto left its running board at the scene of the crash. The accident was reported at 9:20 a. m.

Paul Anderson of 209 Park Boulevard reported that his car, parked on West Center street, was hit at 2:20 p. m. by one which was parking, driven by a Mr. Long of Prospect.

Code Committee Studies City Plumbing Rules

The building code sub-committee of the Marion Chamber of Commerce met in the city council chamber Tuesday night for a discussion of the proposed building code.

Last night's session was devoted to a final reading of the plumbing section of the code, providing for inspection to obtain satisfactory plumbing installation and service. Chamber representatives present included G. L. Pierson, H. E. Webster and Henry Krigbaum. Councilman Charles Tate was a delegate from city council and Newton Cunningham represented the plumbers.

GI POST TO FORM WOMEN'S AUXILIARY

Organization Meeting Called for May 22.

Plans for the organization of a women's auxiliary were announced by William Rizer, commander, at a meeting of GI Post No. 584, American Legion, Tuesday night. Thursday, May 22, has been set for the organizations meeting to be held at 8 p. m. in the post clubroom. Wives, mothers, daughters and sisters of all Legionnaires are eligible for membership.

The clubroom will be turned over to the Marion County Council of the American Legion for a meeting Sunday, June 1, it was announced. An invitation was received from the Marion Navy club to attend the annual Memorial day exercises Sunday, May 25, at 2 p. m. at Forest Glen Memorial Park.

The method for securing supplies of the War Assets administration for veterans of World War II through divisional office No. 4 at Columbus was explained by George Hildebrandt, service officer. Catalogues and blanks are available at the post quarters he announced. The Columbus store is in the Joyce building at 245 North High street.

Lt. Com. W. E. Medford of the U. S. Navy, and Boatswain's Mate 1/c Howard Curtis of the local recruiting office were guests, representing the V-6 inactive naval reserve program now under way here. A dance May 23 will be sponsored by the post in the interest of the naval reserve program, it was announced.

Activities this week will include the regular dance Friday night when music will be by the Hilltop Gang and there will be a show on Saturday night. Saturday night shows were introduced last week and proved a huge success the officers report.

L. H. Cheney Buys G. L. Burton Store

L. H. Cheney of 191 Bellefontaine avenue announced today he has purchased the G. L. Burton grocery and meat market at 475 Blaine avenue. He will take over the store Thursday.

Mr. Burton said he plans to take a vacation but has no immediate business plans for the future.

Mr. Cheney has been in the grocery business here since 1912 and until two years ago operated a grocery and meat market at Columbia street and Olney avenue. His brother, Fred, owns a grocery at 197 North Main street.

Motorist Is Fined, Loses Driving Right

John H. Smith, 19, of 264 Hane avenue had his driving rights suspended for three years and was fined $100 and costs in municipal court this morning. He was arrested on a charge of drunken driving on North Main street at 3:15 this morning and pleaded guilty.

FRANK M. FOSTER ROTARY CLUB HEAD

Officers Elected by Directors Following Luncheon.

Frank M. Foster, president of the Houghton Sulky Co., was elected president of Marion Rotary club Tuesday. He was chosen by the club's board of directors following the weekly luncheon meeting at Hotel Harding.

Other officers elected are: Dr. D. W. Brickley Jr., first vice president; William Ehrick, second vice president, and Donald Sloan, secretary-treasurer. The board of directors for the next Rotary year was elected by the club members at their last weekly meeting.

Officers will be installed July 1 to serve for one year terms.

"Universal Military Training," was the subject Tuesday of the guest speaker, Col. D. Lee Hooper, commanding officer of the Marion Engineer Depot. He has been in the army 30 years. In voicing his views on universal military training, he said the proposed plan for training boys no younger than 18 and not over 20, is before congress now. He said it is proposed as a program of protection for the United States. The training for each qualified boy would last one year, made up of two sections, basic training and schooling.

Col. Hooper used charts to show procedure of universal military training and following his speech, members who wished voiced their views of the plan.

Hugh E. Webster introduced the speaker with a brief talk on the theme, "Preparedness."

Guests of the club were: Charles F. Kirk of Findlay, Harley Roby of Minerva, J. Bratton Boles of McKeesport, Pa., D. L. Burns of Mansfield, R. O. Blackburn and John Carner of Lima, and Ray Keeler of Galion.

Joan White was student reporter from the Harding High school journalism class.

amount under contract, custom or practice."

If that were not true, Mr. Truman said, various provisions of the legislation would be "rendered absurd or unnecessary."

Expresses Own Interpretation

Discussing provisions dealing with future claims, Mr. Truman said he believed that when congress said pay should be for "principal activities" of a worker it intended that those words to be construed liberally to include any work of consequence "performed for the employer, no matter when the work is performed," and added:

"I am sure the courts will not permit employers to use artificial devices such as the shifting of work to the beginning or the end of the day to avoid liability under the law."

The President said he could not agree with the view expressed by some that "good faith" provisions of the law "make each employer his own judge of whether or not he has been guilty of a violation." (The law lets an employer enter a claim that he was acting in good faith under rulings given him as a defense against portal claims.)

He said there were safeguards in these provisions requiring the employer to meet an objective test of actual conformity with administrative rulings or policies and requiring him to "bear the burden of proof."

The President said the law contains "possibly ambiguous language, the effects of which can be accurately measured only after interpretation by the courts."

He said he had instructed labor Secretary Schwellenbach to keep him informed as to the effects of the legislation on wage and hour standards and "if those effects prove to be detrimental to the maintenance of fair labor standards for our workers, I shall request the congress to take prompt remedial action."

He said the legislation would make necessary additional appropriations for enforcement of the wage and hour laws. He said he would submit estimates to congress on how much money is needed.

WARNING GIVEN BY CHURCHILL

Says France and Britain Must Relieve Pressure on German Economy.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, May 14 — Winston Churchill called upon Britain and France tonight to take the lead in restoring the German national economy before the beaten German people "turn their thoughts to revolt and revenge."

"Without a solution of this problem," he declared, "Germany will once again become a menace to her neighbors and to the whole world and the fruits of victory and liberation will be cast away."

Churchill's appeal was part of a plea for a United States of Europe, which he denied was directed against Soviet Russia.

In a speech at a London "united Europe" meeting at the Royal Albert hall, Britain's wartime prime minister declared:

"It is, of course, alleged that all advocacy of the ideal of a united Europe is nothing but a maneuver in the game of power politics, and that it is a sinister plot against Soviet Russia. There is no truth in this.

"The central and almost the most serious problem which glares upon the Europe of today is the future of Germany. Without a solution of this problem, Germany will once again become a menace to her neighbors and to the whole world and the fruits of victory and liberation will be cast away.

"Germany today lies prostrate, famishing among the ruins," he continued. "obviously no initiative can be expected from her. It is for France and Britain to take the lead."

Galion Legion Post Has Annual Supper

GALION, May 14—Approximately 150 were present for the annual pancake and sausage supper held by Scarbrough post, American Legion, Monday night. The supper was served from 6:45 to 7:45 and was followed with the regular business meeting.

A report showed the post has collected $500 toward the goal of $700 for the summer supervised playground program. This amount includes the post's own starting contribution of $350.

WOMAN WHO SLEW 2 CHILDREN FREED

By The Associated Press

LIMA, O., May 14—Mrs. Marian Elizabeth Stokes, 44, who confessed slaying her two children in Harrison, a suburb of Cincinnati, was released today on a writ of habeas corpus from the Lima State hospital for the criminal insane.

She headed for home in the company of her husband, hardly a year after entering the institution.

Mrs. Stokes was committed to the hospital after being acquitted of a charge of first degree murder on her plea of innocent by reason of insanity.

The children, Arlene, 4, and Gerald, 4 months, were slain on Jan. 19, 1946.

Mrs. Stokes telephoned her pastor, Rev. Francis Garrity, of St. John the Baptist Catholic church in Harrison and said:

"Come right over. I've done a terrible thing."

When police arrived they found her kneeling, with a crucifix in her hand, beside the children's bodies. Each had been shot through the heart. Mrs. Stokes also had shot herself above the heart.

The court order releasing her today was granted by the third district court of appeals on petition of Mrs. Stokes' attorney, Francis W. Durbin, Allen county Democratic political leader.

The contention was Mrs. Stokes was being detained unlawfully.

It was the 128th writ granted to Durbin in behalf of patients of the state hospital.

and a friend of Garsson munitions firms officials.

Ulio, retired army adjutant general, told a jury that the wartime house military committee chairman wrote him to suggest a furlough home from the Pacific for Sgt. Albert Freeman, son of Joseph F. Freeman, Washington agent for the $78,000,000 Garsson combine. The May letter was placed in the trial record.

Freeman, and Murray and Henry Garsson are on trial with the 72-year-old May, who is accused of taking more than $55,000 in bribes for favors allegedly performed for the Garsson interests.

Hershey, wartime selective service director, testified that May telephoned him early in 1945 about the draft status of Albert Teitelbaum, Santa Monica, Calif., fur salesman and brother of Henry Garsson's personal secretary.

Teitelbaum preceded Hershey to the witness stand and testified that he sought a draft deferment based on war work he was doing in California on subcontracts for the Garssons.

The prosecution brought out this testimony as it prepared to rest its case. May is scheduled to testify as the first defense witness after opening statements by counsel for the other defendants.

Overnight Camp Set for Guard Company

Final plans were made for an overnight camp to be held Saturday and Sunday at the regular drill session of Company M, Ohio State Guard, held Tuesday night at the armory on West Church street.

Members of the company will gather at the armory Saturday afternoon at 1:30 and will leave for the Fisher farm northeast of Waldo about 2:30. While in camp guardsmen will fire the machine gun and submachine gun. Gas demonstrations have been scheduled and interior guard duty will be performed. The company will return to Marion Sunday afternoon.

At the Tuesday night drill S. Sgt. Lawrence Ekington directed close order drill and instructed members in rolling packs.

Tribe Falls 7-6 As Feller Blows

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, May 14 — Bryan Stephens, [illegible] handed rookie, was nominated today by Cleveland Manager Lou Boudreau to halt the [illegible] in the second game of the Tribe's first eastern series.

Victim of poor control, Rapid Robert Feller [illegible] last night as he absorbed his third defeat of the current season 7-6, at the hands of the troublesome A's.

A pair of home runs by Elmer Valo and Sam Chapman tallied three Philadelphia runs in the seventh frame of a rainy contest.

Wild as the proverbial March hare, Feller issued five walks and a single in the opening inning to enable the A's to wipe out the Tribe's 4-0 margin.

Hal Peck, whose consecutive game hitting streak was snapped at 13, opened the game with a walk and George Metkovich drew a pass. Ferris Fain's error on Boudreau's sacrifice tallied Peck and sent Metkovich to second. Pat Seerey then blasted his sixth homer into the left field stands to provide the Indians with four markers.

Cleveland broke a 4-4 deadlock with two unearned runs in the sixth on Boudreau's single, George Binks' two-base error, a free pass and Ken Keltner's double, but Bob Savage relieved rookie Bill McCahan to throttle the Redskins the rest of the way.

Hank Edwards, the hard-hitting resident of Norwalk, O., who has been sidelined by a shoulder injury, indicated he was ready to return to regular outfield duty in a pre-game workout.

Cubs Flooded Out At Richmond

[illegible]

After [illegible] with the [illegible] Lima in [illegible] with Richmond [illegible] Sunday, Monday and Tuesday the Marion Pirates will play locally for [illegible] game.

In the only Ohio State league game played last night Muncie whipped Lima 12-3 at Muncie.

What's Bruin?

The baseball bugs who remained at Lincoln park through the three hours and 22 minutes of play Monday night saw about everything in the book.

Beside Manager Nelson Burbrink's one man act of knocking in 10 runs for a league record and scoring five himself there were many other record breaking feats during the marathon contest.

The total number of runs made by both teams, 38, is tops in the loop.

The nine so-called pitchers walked a total of [illegible] batters and hit two to give 27 free tickets to first. Marion hurlers gave a total of nine walks and the Dayton staff gave up 18.

Robert Meyer, Cub third baseman, was the recipient of five of these passes. He failed to register a time at bat.

Buddy Gray, who batted for Meyers in the game-winning ninth, also walked to leave the line on the scorebook clean. With five walks Meyers failed to count any of the 20 runs.

Both of Manager Burbrink's homers went over $5 signs in left field.

A seldom-seen play happened in the eighth inning and gave Marion a run.

With Skipper Burbrink on first base with a walk, Jim Forbes hit one by the pitcher that bounced high and the Dayton hurler jumped to snag the hopper and threw his glove at the ball and hit it. Umpire Westphall gave Forbes third base and sent Burbrink home as the rules require if a fielder throws a glove at a batted ball. It would have been an out as the shortstop was in position to field the ball.

Ival Goodman put up an emphatic protest but Westphall stuck to his decision that Starr had thrown his glove at the ball. Goodman thought the glove came off the hurler's hand as he jumped for the ball.

Dillon, one of the Indians' better pitchers, got credit for the loss in the long struggle although he pitched to only three batters, striking out one and walking two. His last walk sent a man home and put the winning run on base which scored when Burbrink slashed his dramatic home run.

Mel Ott has yet to hit a homer in Shibe Park, Philadelphia.

No More "Automatic Outs" On Double Plays

By FRANK ECK
AP Sports Writer

[illegible] baseball [illegible] National league [illegible] double play [illegible] to complete the [illegible] that has always been [illegible] the case of the speed [illegible] play's exe-[illegible] fielders have a tendency [illegible] the bag often [illegible] while off the [illegible] umpires [illegible] in the [illegible] for [illegible] double play [illegible] days in [illegible] the first four days of the season.

The first such incident happened at Ebbets Field in the second and final game of the opening series with the Boston Braves. In the first inning with Eddie Stanky on third and Pete Reiser first and none out, Dixie Walker [illegible] to Connie Ryan [illegible] for what looked [illegible] double play. But it wasn't. It opened the door for a Brooklyn rally, three runs scored and the Bums went on to sweep the abbreviated series with a 12-8 victory.

When Ryan tossed the ball to Dick Culler at short Culler never [illegible] base, Reiser was called safe by Umpire Art Gore and Stanky scored. It most certainly [illegible] made the play properly. So Walker was out at first base on an odd play, Ryan to Culler to Earl Torgeson.

Here's the pivot on a double play. Brooklyn shortstop Pee Wee Reese 'got his man' even though he was well past second base when he completed his throw to first.

The Braves put up a bit of a howl but Gore called the play perfectly, baseball writers agreed.

The second such play occurred the following day when the Dodgers moved to the Polo Grounds to help the Giants in their home inaugural. With Walker on first due to a base on balls, one out and one run in on Jackie Robinson's first major league home run, Carl Furillo hit the ball to Johnny Rigney at short.

Rigney flipped the horsehide to rookie Bob Thomson on second and he in turn threw to Johnny Mize on first. Both runners were safe. Long-legged Thomson had stepped second base before he caught the ball and threw too late to first to get Furillo. Umpire Babe Pinelli called Walker safe at second and [illegible] Thomson was charged [illegible]. However, [illegible] Reese [illegible] into a double play [illegible] short to first.

All Softball Games Postponed by Rain

Rain caused postponement of scheduled opening games in the Marion Night league last night. Huber was booked with Smitty's Grill and Universal Cooler was paired against Fairfield Engineering.

Tonight the league will again try to get rolling. Marion Engineering Depot is scheduled with Schlaifer Transfer and the Junior Chamber of Commerce with the Marion Power Shovel. First game starts at 8.

All Y M C A Commercial league games were also rained out last night.

REDS SQUEEZE BY BROOKLYN 7 TO 5

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, May 13 — Eight bases on balls and a pair of Brooklyn errors spelled victory last night for the Cincinnati Reds but they had to turn back a ninth inning rally to gain a 7-5 triumph.

The Redlegs counted four markers in the third inning on three passes and a single and it looked like the game was in the bag when they counted three more in the seventh.

But the Dodgers came to life in the final round, pushed over three markers and had the winning runs on base when Harry Gumbert, Redleg relief ace, struck out catcher Bruce Edwards to end the game.

Harry Taylor, Brooklyn rookie hurler, pitched hitless ball for the first two innings but walked the first three men to face him in the third. Rube Melton came in and walked in a run before Bobby Adams was forced out at the plate.

Grady Hatton walked forcing in another run and the bases were [illegible] two in single by Bert Haas. Clyde King took over and [illegible] the side.

Two markers in a three run outburst by the Reds in the seventh were driven in by outfielder Tom Tatum, purchased from Brooklyn earlier in the day.

Tentative plans for an exhibition game in Chillicothe at the veterans hospital were made.

Tonight officials handling the Marion program will meet to consider placing orders for equipment for the team.

World's Heaviest Grappler in Battle Royal

Promotor Fishbaugh has been successful in again signing Martin Levy the 640 lb wrestler from Boston for another Marion appearance at the Marion Armory Thursday night. This time Martin will be facing something a little different for Fishbaugh has signed three of the roughest wrestlers in the business to meet the Human Blimp in a battle royal.

The three rough hombres are Dutch Schultz, the better than six foot Texan, Ali Pasha, the bearded Hindu from Calcutta, and none other than Marion's favorite hate man, Bull Montana.

The First two to lose in the battle royal come back in a forty-five minute semi-final two out of three falls and the last two left in the ring return for the two hour main go.

Jean Pollack and Don Baxer will furnish the excitement in [illegible] starts at 8:30. Prices (all taxes paid) Gen. 75c, Ringside $1.00 and Kids 50. [illegible] see Merkert & Lewis [illegible] best [illegible] to his mat massacre. —Adv.

Man Pinned in Wreck Five Days Will Live

By The Associated Press

OAKLAND, Calif., May 14— Ernest K. Steele will live to tell about his ordeal of being pinned beneath his wrecked automobile for five days.

Surgeons at Permanente Foundation hospital said they may have to amputate a portion of his right arm but otherwise his condition was satisfactory.

The 26-year-old Navy combat veteran was trapped beneath his overturned car just 150 feet from a busy highway last Wednesday. He was rescued Monday afternoon by telephone linemen who happened to come along.

"You don't know how wonderful a human being is—a lot of human beings—when you want one," Steele said yesterday.

Gabriel Heatter typifies the ambitious and successful boys who left high school to start in their chosen professions "from the bottom up." New York born Heatter's first job was in 1907, as copy boy on Brooklyn's Times-Union, from which he advanced to full-fledged reporter in the courts, City Hall and finally, to cover New York state news at Albany. This close association with law stimulated his desire for further education, and he arranged his newspaper assignments so that he could "commute" between the city desk and New York University law college.

GENTLEMEN, IT IS OUR SOLEMN DUTY NOT ONLY TO TEACH BUT ALSO TO PREACH ASTRONOMY — TO LEAD ALL MANKIND TO REALIZE —
- THAT SCIENCE HAS UNLOCKED DEADLY, DANGEROUS, DESTRUCTIVE FORCES FROM OUTSIDE OUR PUNY WORLD, WHICH IF UNCONTROLLED WILL DESTROY ALL OUR SO-CALLED CIVILIZATION —
MAN MUST BE COMPELLED TO LEARN THAT KNOWLEDGE AND OBEDIENCE TO THE ETERNAL, UNBREAKABLE LAWS OF THE UNIVERSE OFFER THE ONLY HOPE OF SAVING THE WORLD —
WHEN MEN LEARN TO OBSERVE THE ORDERLY, PEACEFUL, POWERFUL, ETERNAL PARADE OF PLANETS, THEY WILL LEARN THAT IN PEACE AND JUSTICE — NOT IN WAR AND HATRED — IS THE ONLY LAW —

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

I LOOKED at my husband rebel-lio[illegible]

I couldn't go back to sleep now [illegible] my [illegible] told him. "Please don't try to [illegible] me."

"Well, we agreed to share watches, didn't we?" he reminded me. "And I'm wide awake. There's no sense of our both sitting up as there. We'll have plenty of this [illegible] going to do in the next few days, I imagine."

I shivered. I could not help it, for the [illegible] of what might happen to Mary if we did not keep vigilant watch over her was heavy upon me.

My husband looked at me sharply.

Then he put his arm around me and drew me back to the [illegible] chair near the doorway into Mary's bedroom.

"You need 'lovings' and 'talk-ings'," he said indulgently, "before you go to sleep. So settle down in Piggy's lap and we'll discuss the price of potatoes or the state of the union or anything else which strikes your fancy."

I nestled against his shoulder again and for a minute was silent. Then I voiced the thought which I knew was also in his mind.

"It's such a tragedy!" I said.

A Crime

"You mean Jack and Katherine?" he asked. "Their love for children, the fact staring them in the face that it's too late for them to have one of their own? It's more than a tragedy. It's a crime! I'd like to go down into that cell where the Wilderness Woman is dragging out her miserable existence and put lighted matches under her finger nails or do something equally unspeakable."

"Don't!" I shivered.

Then I spoke honestly. "I don't believe I'd hold you back if I saw you doing it. To think how her lies to Katherine about Jack and to Jack about Katherine kept them apart for so long, almost separated them forever!

"She made Katherine believe that Jack wanted a divorce so that he could marry her, and made Jack believe that Katherine really loved Hal Meredith and was only sticking to her husband from a sense of duty. Wasn't that terrible? And what climaxed the misunderstanding, of course—"

"Yes, that was the way it was," I said sadly.

Blames Jack

"Well, I blame Jack a lot," he said. "I can see how a proud woman like Katherine could let herself be bamboozled by [illegible] like the Wilderness Woman. But that Jack should fall for the story about Hal Meredith when Katherine had stood by him so loyally through all that shell-shock business and the years of mooning, there must be a screw loose somewhere in his mental machinery."

I could not help it. The words came from my lips without volition, referring to something of which we had not spoken since our early marriage.

"Jack is not the only man who thought his wife was in love with another man and fled from her," I said, then caught my breath in dismay as Dicky stiffened and his arms loosened their clasp of me.

"Oh, Dicky!" I cried. "I'm sorry! I don't know why I said that."

"Because you've never forgotten it," he said miserably, and then for a second there was a dismal silence between us as our memories went back to that awful time in the first year of our marriage when [illegible]
